

Award for Best Student Paper in Telecommunications

In the framework of the ETAI 2013 conference, the local chapter of the IEEE Communications Society will confer its annual award, the ComSoc Macedonia Student Achievement Award for the Year 2014. The award will be bestowed to one (undergraduate, Master or PhD) student, who appears as the first author of a paper presented at the ETAI 2013 conference (telecommunications track). The awardee will be selected by the award committee after the conference.
